Re: United States v. Levanger Belcher, 96 CR 789 (AJN)

Dear Judge Nathan:

The defendant in the above-captioned case was arrested for violating the terms of his supervised release. He has since been released pursuant to bail conditions set by the Honorable Robert W. Lehrburger, United States Magistrate Judge. As part of those conditions, the defendant will reside in the Southern District of Florida.

The Government writes to request a conference before the Court in approximately 60 days. Such a delay is appropriate in order to avoid the need for the defendant to travel from Florida to New York during the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic. Defense counsel does not object to this request.

Respectfully submitted,

GEOFFREY S. BERMAN
United States Attorney

Paul Wodeshick, Probation Officer (By Email)

A conference in this matter is hereby scheduled for July 7, 2020 at 11:00 a.m. Two weeks in advance of the conference, the parties should submit a joint letter advising the Court whether the conference will proceed by videoconference or whether they seek further adjournment.
SO ORDERED.
